

FAMOUS LEGION SPEAKER COMING TO SOUTH S. F.

CAPTAIN S. H. DANCEY TO APPEAR FOR LOCAL POST IN SERIES OF ADDRESSES

Tentative Program Includes Speeches At High School, Group Luncheon, Woman's Club and Mass Meeting

ONE of the finest pieces of constructive patriotic work ever undertaken in South San Francisco is announced by Bernard McCaffrey Post No. 86, American Legion, for Friday, May 23, when it will present Capt. S. H. Dancey, nationally known lecturer, in his program of Americanization.

The program as now tentatively organized includes an address at the high school at 11 a. m., a luncheon meeting in which representatives of every civic and fraternal organization in the city will be present, an address at 2 o'clock before the woman's club, and a giant mass meeting in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock, to which the entire community will be invited. Captain Dancey will address each one of these gatherings, and his theme, now so widely known throughout the state, will be "Americanization." In the mass meeting he will discuss national and international conditions, and will hold an open forum after his talk.

Heard by Thousands
Some idea of the magnitude of the work undertaken by Captain Dancey in co-operation with American Legion posts throughout the state is shown by the recognition he received in a recent tour of the San Joaquin valley.

Working in the seventh congressional district, he addressed 176,000 persons during 297 meetings in 52 days held in cities from Modesto, in Stanislaus county, to Eureka, in Kern county. Everywhere he has been greeted by thousands and his message of constructive Americanism has been broadcast where it would have the greatest effect.

Gilroy launched the campaign for the eighth congressional district and gave Captain Dancey more than 3,000 people for his meetings there. Great throngs heard his words in Pacific Grove, Monterey and Hollister. He is working this way, and during the coming week will address meetings in Redwood City, San Mateo and several other Peninsula cities.

Fearless Speaker
Captain Dancey will tell things that will never be heard from a political platform, and things which will never be read in the columns of the press. Yet they are fundamental truths affecting present-day conditions, that every loyal American should know.

No man can be too absorbed in matters of business as to be indifferent to those things that affect his citizenship. The busiest men in the United States today are the men who always find time for those patriotic movements. The great hope is to bring the people back to the cardinal principles of good Americanism and to persuade them to shake off this spirit of apathy and indifference and function as citizens.

In undertaking this program which has been adopted by the American Legion, the South San Francisco post is furthering a great work. Not only is this program endorsed by the American Legion, but it has the federal government's stamp of approval as well as the backing of 144 patriotic organizations, every church unit and every educational leader. It has gained this endorsement because it has reached the hearts of the people and is the result of the faith of the nation's leaders.

Captain S. N. Dancey, who comes to South San Francisco May 23 as the speaker in connection with the American Legion's program of education and Americanization, has had a career of unusual interest.

A newspaperman, previous to the war, he traveled extensively. Scarcely a land in this old world that he did not visit. He made a careful study of conditions in different parts of the world, and the result of his research has been employed to good advantage in his books, his writings and now in his platform work.

Quite Active
When the war dogs were unleashed and the freedom of the world threatened, Captain Dancey crossed the seas, enlisted as a private, and went to France. He remained with the Allied armies until the A. E. F. came overseas and then he went with his own. For several months he was a prisoner in the hands of the Germans, escaping over the Holland frontier. The story of his escape appeared in the Saturday Evening Post at the time.

Twice wounded, he went back every time and went right through into the Army of Occupation. There, he remained but a short time. Allied leaders had learned of his platform ability and they took him out of the Army of Occupation and threw him into the fight against the propaganda that at that time was threatening to break down the morale of the armies and drive dissonance between the different branches of the Allied armies.

Spoke to All Armies
More than one million soldiers heard his stirring appeal. French, British and American responded with equal enthusiasm. One of the bright memories of this work to Captain Dancey was the day he was permitted to stand before the French cabinet and tell the leaders of France of these conditions he was combating, giving them the American viewpoint.

For his splendid work amongst the troops, Captain Dancey was personally honored by Marshal Foch and other Allied leaders. He was made the recipient of a beautiful pipe by no less a personage than Papa Joffre.

President Millerand of France paid high tribute to this soldier orator and invited him to make a tour of France, giving the French people the American viewpoint. Captain Dancey still cherishes the hope of soon returning to France to redeem his pledge to the French leader.

CROSSED WIRES CAUSE BLAZE
Fire caused from crossed wires resulted in a call for the department at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning from the rooming house above the Citizens' National Bank near the corner of Grand and Linden.

Night Officer Blanchini saw a flash of light and smoke pouring from the rooming house, and calling to a passing pedestrian to turn in an alarm, he hurried upstairs and awakened the roomers.

The broken wire had fallen on a bed, setting fire to the clothes. The blaze was quickly extinguished by the fire department and but little damage was done.

SAMUEL AKIN DEATH VICTIM

Samuel L. Akin, a former resident and property owner of this city, passed to his final rest in San Francisco on Monday, May 12. He is survived by his widow, Anna A. Akin, two sons, William and Charles P., and a daughter, Mrs. Maude E. Millett.

Funeral services were held in the parlors of D. L. Kenny, 1625 Eddy street, on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, with private services.

SOUTH CITY MAN HELD ON CHARGE OF HOUSEBREAKING

J. L. Green, who gave his address as the Ship Hotel, South San Francisco, committed a tactical blunder on Wednesday night when he meandered into the home of P. White of 138 Oliver street, Daly City, about midnight. White surprised him shortly after he had taken possession of the place, and escorted him up the hill to Officer Hilton, who placed him in the city jail.

Green, who is an interesting talker, made many remarkable statements to the police department and to the court, but in spite of his narrative, he was held in $1,000 bail on a burglary charge and was removed, still cheerful though protesting, to the jail at Redwood City.

This is the initial step toward the construction of a great highway for commercial purposes which will use the present Bayshore route into this city and will follow the shore line to Broadway and thence down the Peninsula.

The initial work will consist in building a grade across the tide lands along the bay front. The work will be financed from money turned over to the State by San Francisco from its share of the motor vehicle fees.

LEGION SEEKS TO COMPLETE WORK OF NATURALIZATION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—More than 18,000 alien ex-servicemen of the recent World War, who while in the training camps of the United States made application for citizenship, have never received the final papers, according to National Commander John R. Quinn of the Legion. Quinn has written to Morgan Keaton, state adjutant of the Legion here, asking that an endeavor be made to have all ex-servicemen who have not received their naturalization papers write to the Legion officials or the bureau of naturalization at Washington at once, stating their names, outfit served with, and camp in which they made the application for citizenship.

ADVANCE SALE OF TICKETS AUGURS WELL FOR CIRCUS

Wilkins Arena Show Herald as Extraordinarily Splendid Event

South San Francisco Eagles are working hard to put over their circus here, May 27 to 31, and judging by the advance ticket sale it is going to be the biggest event that has taken place in this city for several years. The entire city seems to be interested in seeing the lodge increase its benefit fund to the point where it can accomplish something worth while for the lodge as well as for the locality.

This is the first time in the history of the city that a lodge has employed a circus to raise funds for any purpose, and in selecting the Fred C. Wilkins Arena Circus, the Eagles feel that they have an attraction that enjoys an enviable reputation for originality, and for cleanliness, both in presentation and in the general appearance of the show.

The show is housed inside a huge arena which is 350 feet, or a city block long. The arena style tent is brand new and in the evening, when the lights are burning, say the Eagles, there is a sense of feeling that a good performance is in the making. Under the guidance of a committee of 25 members of the lodge who will be on hand as greeters, visitors to the circus will find plenty in the way of entertainment.

The 25 acts furnish plenty of variety. Clowns, trained and educated animals, slack wire artists, trapeze performers, and many other features are promised in each evening's entertainment.

Accompanying all the acts the circus band will furnish melody that ranges from opera selections to the most modern of jazz music. Each performance is finished off when Matt Gay makes his appearance and climbs to the top of a high platform. What he does when he has climbed to that height, the circus literature and the publicity agent do not divulge.

INSTITUTE HERE INITIATES CLASS

Grand Secretary Josephine Malloy of the Young Ladies' Institute visited St. Agatha's Institute in its meeting held in Parish Hall on Tuesday evening. She witnessed the initiation of a class of three candidates and praised the ritualistic work performed by the order.

The new members initiated were Mrs. Quinlan, Mrs. M. Burns, and Miss Mary Lawler. A transfer card was also received from Angela Institute for Mrs. William Ely, and she was made a member of St. Agatha's Institute.

A committee was named to promote money for the social fund of the order, and an athletic committee was also appointed.

BUTCHER CUT ON KNEE IN ACCIDENT

Joe Fernandes of 835 Treat avenue, San Francisco, who is employed at the Columbia Meat Market, has been forced to stop work for a week as the result of an accident. While cutting meat on Thursday the knife he was using slipped and cut his leg just above the knee. The wound, while not serious, was extremely painful and necessitated his confinement at home.

ing to National Commander John R. Quinn of the Legion. Quinn has written to Morgan Keaton, state adjutant of the Legion here, asking that an endeavor be made to have all ex-servicemen who have not received their naturalization papers write to the Legion officials or the bureau of naturalization at Washington at once, stating their names, outfit served with, and camp in which they made the application for citizenship.

C. OF C. TO JOIN PENINSULA BODY

Will Continue Fight to Have Bar Dredged and Harbor Improved

Despite the adverse report recently submitted to congress on the project of dredging the bar and improving the South harbor, the chamber of commerce will continue its efforts to have that work done. That determination was voiced in a meeting of the directors held on Monday night in the Industrial Club.

The directors also voted to accept the invitation of the Peninsula Chambers of Commerce, Federated, to enter that organization. The invitation which was issued when the latter federation was formed, had been waiting this meeting of the board.

Secretary Phelps reported that the road signs requested by the chamber of commerce had been installed by the California State Automobile Association. He also reported that the folder advertising South San Francisco is nearly ready to be handed to the printers. The letter of thanks received by the chamber of commerce from the State Department of Agriculture and Dr. U. G. Houck, U. S. inspector in charge of the fight on the hoof and mouth epizootic, was read and acknowledged.

The trap car suit has been postponed from April 30 to June 18. A postponement was also announced for the Commercial Secretaries Convention, which is to be attended by the local secretary as the representative of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. It will be held at Stanford University on July 26 instead of in Eureka as originally planned. The last of three advertising billboards is being constructed on the Bayshore road. The other two are located near Cypress Lawn Cemetery and on the San Bruno road.

Negotiations are to be conducted with the board of trustees of the city for replacement of the water wagon which was recently demolished in an accident while the chamber of commerce was using it to carry water to the huge advertising sign northeast of the city.

CITY RECORDER FINES SPEEDER AND DISTURBERS

City Recorder E. E. Cunningham enjoyed a busy session in his court Wednesday morning when several traffic law violators and two other miscreants appeared for trial.

Two fines were levied for disturbing the peace, one for $15, the other for $30. Eight motor vehicle owners appeared, and seven of them paid $5 for careless driving and cutting corners. One speeder was fined $10.

The traffic law violators were halted by City Marshal Louis Belloni and his aides, as were the two disturbers of the peace.

WEED PROBLEM TO BE HEARD BY COUNCIL

Objections to Be Considered at Special Session Tonight

Objections by property owners to the program of weed removal instigated by the city trustees will be heard by that body in a special meeting slated for tonight at 7:30 in the council chambers. It is likely that the bonds for new sewer construction will be passed on at this time if they are ready. Notices have been posted warning property holders in certain areas of the city to remove all weeds. In many instances this request has been complied with and the weeds removed. Unless all property is cleaned up by Friday morning when the gang of workmen hired by the city will start its labors, they will do the cleaning up and a charge will be laid against the property.

This is the second year the city trustees have undertaken to clean up all vacant lots and curbsides, and property holders have exhibited a greater willingness to work with them than they did the first year.

VANDAL SLASHES OFFICER'S TIRES

Constable Thinks Job Done for Spite by One of His Enemies

Spite work is the suspected reason for the cutting of the tires of the automobile belonging to Constable James Wallace on last Wednesday night while he was eating in a local restaurant.

Wallace had served a number of warrants on Wednesday evening and on his way home he stopped in a restaurant to eat. While he was away from his car vandals slashed the tires with a sharp instrument, damaging them to the extent that they were flat next morning when the Constable went to the garage to take his car out.

It so happened that the car Wallace was driving was his own and not the official car he generally drives. He suspects that the act was committed by someone whom he has had occasion to arrest recently.

TELL OF ENGAGEMENT OF MISS LOUISE BEALL TO WILLARD SULLIVAN

The engagement of Miss Mildred Louise Beall to Willard E. Sullivan was announced at a tea at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Asa P. Beall last week.

At the announcement tea, more than 70 guests were received by the Rev. and Mrs. Beall. The home was decorated with flowers and ferns. Little Mary Elizabeth Fox, costumed as a rose, met the guests at the door. Mrs. S. R. Wills presided at the tea table and was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. H. Coffinberry and Mrs. W. F. Fox.

DRUGGIST SELLS POISON, IS FINED

William Morey, Colma pharmacist, was fined $60 in the justice court of Edward Farrell last Thursday on complaint of representatives of the State Board of Pharmacy that he sold arsenic over the counter of his store. Morey entered a plea of guilty. J. F. McCarthy, representative of the State board, and Arthur L. Morrison, San Francisco policeman, testified that they had purchased arsenic from Morey and produced the poison in court. Judge Farrell levied a fine of $30 on each count, with the alternative of 30 days in jail.

BLANK DEFEATS HOLSTON IN RECOUNT

Plaintiff Loses 13 Votes in Court Tabulation at Redwood City

JUDGE BUCK IN PRAISE OF CONDUCT

All Candidates Suffer When Spoiled Ballots Are Thrown Out

Carl Blank was declared elected along with Hugh McNellis and Hugh McCaffrey to the board of trustees by Superior Judge Buck in Redwood City on Friday afternoon following a recount of the ballots of the election held April 14 upon the petition of C. W. Holston, who was beaten by Blank in the original count by two votes.

Holston lost 15 votes in the recount, while Blank lost but two, making the difference between them 15. The counting of the ballots began promptly at 10 a. m., with Leo Friedman and Albert Mansfield associated with City Attorney John F. Davis in representing the defendants. John D. Willard and W. D. Coleber represented Holston.

It was discovered that in consolidated precinct A Blank gained one vote. In precinct B, counted in the afternoon, with the additional ballots excepted to by the different attorneys, it was found that Blank totaled 15 more votes than Holston.

He was declared elected by Judge Buck, who said the election was well conducted and that the errors uncovered were as few as he had ever seen in a recount.

All of the candidates suffered to some extent in the recount, when ballots which had inked off-sets, those marked in pencil, those marked outside the proper square, and those on which more than three candidates had been voted shown in the following comparative table:

	Original vote	Recount
H. McNellis	451	445
H. McCaffrey	447	444
Carl Blank	429	427
C. W. Holston	427	412

Your Wife or Mother

To the commuters who are employed in plants in South San Francisco, but who do not live in this city—this message is directed:

Does she have to rise an hour earlier to prepare your breakfast and send you to the train or street-car that will carry you miles to your work?

Does she have to wait dinner each night while you are spending valuable moments traveling needless miles from your job?

Isn't she entitled to some consideration in the general scheme of life's things?

By living close to your work you will lighten her burden by enabling her to secure more rest in the early morning. She will finish the dinner work earlier in the evening so that both of you will be able to enjoy some of the pleasures for which you labor.

WHY NOT GIVE SUNDAY CLOSING A TRIAL?

A law to enforce Sunday closing of certain types of retail stores in this city will be difficult to make hole-proof, the city attorney tells the Sunday-closing committee of the Merchants' Association. Because such a law would discriminate against a certain class of business in favor of other mercantile establishments that even the first class regards as essentially Sunday businesses, one of the disgruntled business men of the first class might easily attack such an ordinance and break it.

Sunday closing may be secured in an easier fashion. The merchants represented in the association have agreed that it is necessary that tobacco and candy stores, drug stores, pool rooms, and restaurants should remain open. Why then do not the others agree among themselves to close on Sundays?

They are entitled after six full working days to a rest on Sunday and by agreeing among themselves they can have it.

The essential difficulty lies in breaking a custom. It is traditional for South San Francisco merchants to remain open on Sunday. Some of them believe they will lose money if they close their doors. That belief arises from the fact that the buying public, knowing full well it can buy on Sunday as on any other day, does buy fairly heavily on Sunday. If that same buying public realized it could not buy on Sunday it would visit the stores on Saturday or even on Friday to satisfy the Sunday wants.

There is one way to prove that it would and that the merchant would lose nothing by closing on Sunday. Have a trial period of one month. Sign every merchant outside of the class mentioned above. Make him understand that it is a trial for a month only and that he must back his signature during that period by locking his doors tightly.

At the end of that month it is extremely doubtful if any one of the merchants would be willing to go back to the old style of humoring the public by serving it unrestrictedly through seven days of every week.

SO, SAN FRANCISCO CHALLENGED

How Will Attendance Records Here Compare With Those Elsewhere to Hear Americanism Discussed

In bringing Captain Dancy to give his program of Americanization, Bernard McCaffrey Post of the American Legion has accepted a challenge for South San Francisco. It is the challenge of 52 cities in the San Joaquin Valley which sent 178,000 persons to hear the great message of this veteran of the World War. It is the challenge of the Coast cities of Gilroy, Hollister, Monterey, and Pacific Grove, where packed auditoriums heard the sermon of good Americanism from one of the foremost speakers on that subject in the nation today.

Can South San Francisco equal the records set by the crowds in the cities of the San Joaquin Valley and the Coast counties of Central California? There is hardly any doubt that every resident of this city will hear Captain Dancy during one or more of his addresses.

Another significant thing about the coming of Captain Dancy is that there is no charge to any individual or organization. Open meetings are the rule, and the expense of bringing Captain Dancy here is to be borne by the American Legion post.

That in itself is significant in that it is the first example of the newly announced policy of Bernard McCaffrey Post—the policy of contributing to the welfare of this community in every way possible.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS

As the results of the French elections this week are said to presage French acceptance of the Dawes reparations plan, there is occasion for world-wide satisfaction. But to what degree we may be jubilant must depend upon some hidden factors.

It is stated in the news from Paris that the leaders of the majority which will make up the eventual government bloc in the chamber are understood all to favor the application of the Dawes reparation plan. But in the editorial comment from London we are informed that the French election result was due chiefly to domestic conditions, the fall of the franc, the cost of living, and increased taxation, rather than to disapproval of Premier Poincaré's Ruhr policy.

If the fact that the chosen leaders of the new government approve the Dawes plan is an accident rather than a reflection of the popular opinion, then obviously the situation as it affects hopes of settling the war account is less cheering than the surface condition would indicate.

Credit at least one benefit to the hoof and mouth disease epidemic: The restrictions imposed for a time upon picnickers and wildflower snaraders have given the native plants an exceptional chance for seeding.

HOW TO COMPLETE A JOB

Progressive Work Is Necessary. Whether We Are Building a House or Developing a Foreign Policy

Suppose in starting to build a house you engaged a contractor to lay the foundation, and when the contractor for the superstructure came he insisted first upon wrecking the first foundation and laying another, and this performance were repeated indefinitely. How long would it be before you had a house?

This figure comes to mind in reading of Senator Lodge's new world court proposal as an answer to America's question of foreign policy. Woodrow Wilson laid the basis for an American foreign policy as he conceived it by his League of Nations. The Harding administration for political reasons could not countenance the League of Nations in entirety, but proposed to salvage the Permanent Court of International Justice from the league structure barricaded by a sufficiency of reservations to insure for America's participation in the court institution an independence from the league proper. Intra-party differences have prevented any great headway toward acceptance of the Harding world court by the Coolidge administration. And now Senator Lodge comes along with a different world court plan, which, if accepted, would mean the abandonment of the Harding-Coolidge plan, and thereby throw our country back to the ground-breaking ceremonies again.

The Nation never will achieve its highest possibilities in friendly world intercourse until greater economy is practiced in the policies of presidential administrations. It is far better to build upon the work of the predecessor than to attempt to supplant it. The administration that first proceeds with this idea will be credited with a greater degree of courageous originality than if it aspires for sole credit for a great work by insistence upon doing the whole job itself. We have seen in the present administration that the latter idea tends to defeat itself.

So let us scrap the Lodge plan and stick to the Harding-Hughes court proposal instead.

DOES COLLEGE EDUCATION PAY?

Every Man Is His Own Answer to the Question; Comparisons Are Not the Right Test

The question of whether a college education pays for a young man who is going into business is one of the perennials in impromptu discussions. And the final, satisfying answer is yet to be made. To be sure, there is no dearth of testimony on either side. There are examples brought forth of how one fellow without any education beyond the rudimentary essentials outstripped all competitors from the college alumni group. And there are examples cited of college boys forging rapidly ahead of the fellows who had a far earlier start in the apprenticeship of the business.

But comparisons of this sort are no answer. Whether a college education pays is to be determined chiefly by considering the data within a single individual. The question is not so much whether university training has enabled a certain man to compete to better advantage with others, but rather whether it has enabled him to get ahead of himself. Has the collegian made a greater success in his work than he would have made without his education? Or would he have done more for himself had his opportunities excluded the college course? Every man is his own answer to the question. A comparison of himself and somebody else is not the test.

THE BAYSHORE HIGHWAY

South San Francisco will soon be on one of the principal arteries of travel if the call for bids for grading of the initial unit of the Bayshore highway means anything. When the sealed proposals for the preparation of the roadbed to extend along the bay shore from this city to Broadway are opened in Sacramento on May 19, and the contract is actually let, the fulfillment of a long standing need will begin to materialize.

Construction of such a road means that a great deal of the traffic which now naturally routes itself past the cemeteries will come through this city. Added traffic of whatever nature will mean increasing business, and increasing business of necessity means a more prosperous city.

A four-months campaign to begin June 1 is announced by the American Railway Association to reduce the number of highway crossing accidents. Drivers of automobiles will be urged to reduce their speed to 10 miles per hour 300 feet from a railway crossing and not increase that speed until they are sure it is safe to proceed. The campaign, as we stated, is to start June 1. But there is no objection to drivers practicing up on this safety plan before June. If lives can be saved by such a simple precaution during a campaign, there is no reason why the same results cannot be achieved in the same way at any time.

SECURITY

There is a certain feeling of safety that comes when the roof overhead belongs to you.

No matter what kind of weather, the home owner is secure. No landlord can press him for the rent when his bank account is low.

The best time to build is when you have the determination to DO IT NOW.

Others have done it—most of them no better equipped than you—except that they had the determination to end delay, to make a start.

South San Francisco's growth as a "home" city is second only to its growth as an "industrial" city—and that growth is second to none in California.

WE WANT TO HELP YOU

Acquire the home you should have, the home you have been dreaming of and planning for. Consult us at any time—you need not feel under any obligation for services rendered.

Mayonnaise Dressing

One cup oil, two tablespoons vinegar (about), one raw egg yolk, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon of mustard, dash of pepper or paprika.

It is essential that everything for a mayonnaise be of the same temperature; not one ingredient very cold and the other very warm. Put the egg yolk in a small bowl and beat until creamy, then add the mustard, salt, pepper, and mix until smooth; add one teaspoon of vinegar, then add a few drops of oil, using a small egg beater; add oil gradually, beating until thick between each addition of oil. This can be accomplished very quickly with the egg beater. Add remaining vinegar when all the oil has been used. By adding a small quantity of acid to the egg before using any oil prevents a possibility of the dressing separating. This dressing is a base for many appetizing combinations.

Thousand Island Dressing

To one cup of mayonnaise, add one teaspoon of onion juice, two tablespoons of French dressing, and one-third cup of chili sauce.

Tartar Sauce

To one-half cup of mayonnaise add one sour pickle finely chopped and one teaspoon of onion juice.

This may be varied by using chopped capers and olives.

Chantilly Dressing

To one-half cup of mayonnaise add one tablespoon of grated horseradish and one teaspoon of onion juice.

French Dressing

Three tablespoons of oil, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper or paprika, one teaspoon onion juice if desired.

Put all the ingredients in a small fruit jar, adjust cover and shake for a few seconds, when the ingredients will be well mixed. The dressing should be thick.

French Dressing for Fruit

Three tablespoons of oil, one-half teaspoon of lemon juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon powdered sugar.

Mix in a glass jar, tightly covered, until thick.

Cream Cheese Dressing

Mix twice the quantity of French dressing. Take one-half cream cheese and beat until creamy, then gradually beat in the French dressing. Season rather highly with paprika and a dash of cayenne pepper.

Italian Dressing

Add one tablespoon of tomato catsup to the French dressing, then mix as directed.

Horseradish Dressing

Add one teaspoon of grated horseradish to the French dressing and mix as directed.

TYPEWRITING AND SHORT-HAND CONTESTS

South San Francisco will tackle Jefferson in the first typewriting and shorthand contests ever held by either of the two schools, Friday, May 16, at the Daly City auditorium. Mr. Weller, head of the commercial department, held tryouts Monday to see who would represent our school. Many trophies have been lost because students were given no practice before an audience, so in order to avert losing the contest, Mr. Weller held the tryouts before the whole school. All of the contestants lived up to expectations. The following will compose our teams: Third and fourth semester typewriting team, Edna Young, Annie Whitehouse, Alpheus McGovern and Gertha Lane; second semester, Elizabeth Coffinberry, Althea Spangler, Enes Tacchi, Donald Vassej; the shorthand team, Charles Miller, Alcyona Clonsky, Beula O'Rourke, Sylvia Thomas, Ethel Garnener, Morio Volante and Charles Ghilardi.

PEDESTRIANS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR AUTO FATALITIES

Pedestrian carelessness is wholly or partly responsible in three out of four cases in which pedestrians are killed in automobile accidents, according to a statement issued this week by the California State Automobile Association following an analysis of coroner's jury records for last year in San Francisco.

Out of 102 deaths in San Francisco last year, 70 involved pedestrians and only 17 of these deaths, or 24.3 per cent were held strictly chargeable to the motorist. In 40 other cases the fault was held wholly or partly that of the pedestrian and in 13 remaining cases the fault was not determined, indicating at least contributory negligence on the part of the motorist.

Statistical evidence from other cities bears out the same facts, the automobile association announced, and shows that some regulation of pedestrian traffic and the education of the pedestrian is just as important as the curtailment of speeding and reckless driving in every well rounded safety campaign.

FORD COMPANY PRODUCES GOOD RADIATORS DAILY

It takes more than 254 miles of copper tubing a day to supply just the requirement in the radiator department of the Ford Motor Company's plant at Highland Park, Detroit, under the present high production schedule. In other words the copper tubing used annually for Ford radiators would go round the world three times or if bent into a circle with the earth in the center it would stand 8,000 miles away from the earth's surface.

The radiator department is called upon to produce 9,600 radiators a day, and materials necessary to attain this output run into surprising figures. In addition to the copper tubing, of which 95 pieces 18 7-8 inches long go into every radiator, other materials used in a single day's production of radiators comprise 38 tons of sheet steel, 6 tons of terne plate, 67 tons of brass, 9 tons of solder, 18,000 malleable castings, more than 4 miles of brass tubing for drains, and 1,068 gallons of acid.

In the making of a single radiator 140 operations are necessary and every step of the manufacturing process requires unusual care.

Rigid inspection is maintained all through the process. Every part is closely scrutinized before assembly, and assembled radiators are tested under water at an air pressure of 15 pounds per square inch. Before the finished radiator is sent out from the department it is given a final inspection for quality and appearance.

START CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE ACCIDENTS AT GRADE CROSSINGS

Slow down, look both ways, then cross!

This slogan is the keynote of an educational campaign launched by the California State Automobile Association to reduce the death and accident toll at railroad grade crossings. The campaign is being conducted in co-operation with railroad and highway officials.

Many disastrous accidents would be avoided if motorists would follow this simple rule and then shift into second speed if the crossing is on an elevated grade. Absolute control of the car is this assured and the driver can stop or go ahead as conditions warrant.

BUYS MAXWELL TOURING

William E. Imler of the Metropolitan Hotel has purchased a Maxwell touring car from Diamond & Noland of the Reliance Garage. Imler took delivery of the car early this week and now has it in full service.

Spark Plug Simplification Urged by Manufacturers as Remedy for Present Waste

That the present wide diversity in sizes and dimensions of automobile spark plugs is the cause of much waste in production and distribution of these commodities has been brought out by several spark-plug manufacturers, who have suggested the desirability of reduced variety to the division of simplified practice of the Department of Commerce.

The consensus of opinion shown by their letters is that the present variety could be appreciably reduced with resulting benefit to the spark-plug manufacturer, the car builder, the accessory and supply dealer, and also to the car owner.

Plugs, though now made in many different designs, are furnished in four principal diameters, no one of which is interchangeable with another. In addition to this diversity, each diameter is made in a number of different lengths, also in different sizes of "hex." The majority of those replying to the inquiry favor reduction, not only in these features, but also in the diameters. Some go so far as to recommend spark plugs be simplified to one size thread, one size of threaded shank, one length of plug body, and one size of hexagon. It is claimed this can be done without destroying the individuality of the different makes of spark plugs.

Several of the manufacturers say one such plug could be adopted by all engineers. Adoption of the S. A. E. Standard 7/16-inch spark plug, with its 18 threads per inch (U. S. fine thread series) is recommended above all others. Some are of the opinion that this plug need be made in only three lengths, known as "regular," "medium extension" and "full extension," to serve all motor cars.

Simplification of spark-plug sizes and dimensions was also reported to the division by the American engineering standards committee as one of the thousand or more opportunities for simplification suggested to the A. E. S. C. by the members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Up to Designers
The present apparently excessive diversity is said by the plug manufacturers to rest largely with the engine designers and builders, who seem to find it necessary to have many minor variations in those features which are common to all spark plugs. However, the plug manufacturers feel that much can be accomplished toward simplification through the co-operation of all interests. It is almost unanimously recognized that the elimination of the superfluous varieties will relieve the manufacturer of carrying large inventories, of having large investment tied up in machinery, tools and equipment necessary for making "special" types, and bring about other economies in production. To the distributors and jobbers it will mean quicker turnover, larger volume of business on present investment, and more effective advertisement.

Several of the manufacturers say one such plug could be adopted by all engineers. Adoption of the S. A. E. Standard 7/16-inch

LINCOLN SETS SHIPMENT MARK

DETROIT, Mich., May 14.—All previous records for shipments were broken at the Lincoln Motor Company's plant here during the week of April 21-26, when that division of the Ford Motor Company, it is just announced, shipped out a total of 228 Lincoln cars. The last high record week was in October, 1923.

To the car owner it means improved quality of product, better value for his money, also greater convenience in obtaining the right size of plug, irrespective of where he and his car may be.

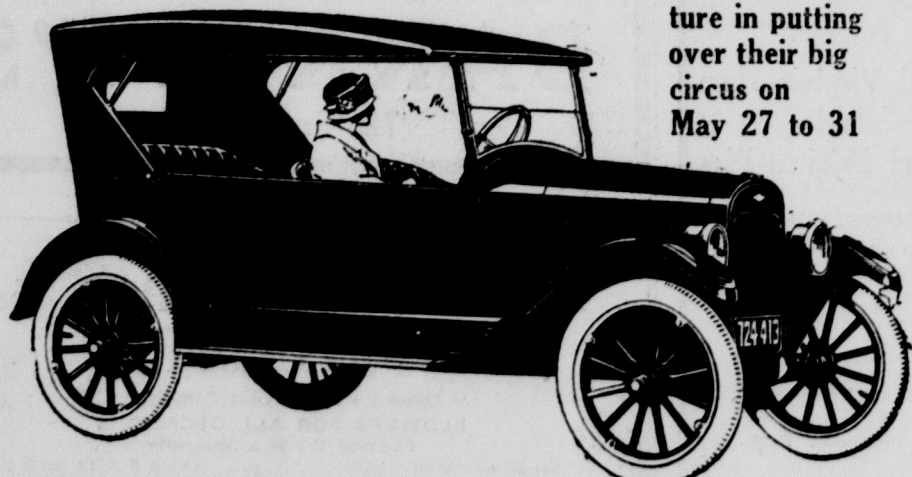

Want Early Action

It is further appreciated that little can be done with cars now in use, but the widest possible adoption of a common standard diameter of plug as new models of cars are built will eventually result in concentrating production on that size of plug. Many spark-plug makers are anxious to see early action, and to that end, have expressed their willingness to co-operate with the other groups concerned. They further express the hope that the division will be able to assist their industry, just as it has helped many other industries to get rid of the burdens and the wastes resulting from "over-diversification" in their products.

The division is taking up the matter with the Society of Automotive Engineers, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the Motor and Accessory Manufacturers' Association, the Automotive Equipment Association, and the American Automobile Association, as representatives of the several interests concerned with this problem.

ARMANDO AGININ TO DIRECT S. F. OPERA

Armando Agnin, stage director of the Metropolitan Opera House, is in San Francisco to take charge of the scenic and stage direction of the San Francisco Opera Company, that has just leased a building on Ninth street, where scenery and properties will be constructed from models he has brought from the East. In ten days he leaves for Chicago to direct the stage work at Ravinia Park, where stars of the Metropolitan and Chicago companies will give summer opera.

ARMANDO AGININ IN SAN FRANCISCO

Armando Agnin, Direttore di Palcoscenico della "Metropolitan Opera House," si trova in San Francisco per incaricarsi della direzione del Palcoscenico della San Francisco Opera Company. Questa ha affittato recentemente un fabbricato nella nona strada dove scene teatrali ed altre strutture verranno costruite sotto la direzione del Signor Armando Agnin da modelli che esso ha portato seco dall'Est.

Fra dieci giorni partirà il Signor Agnin per Chicago per dirigere i lavori di palcoscenico al Ravinia Park, dove artisti di primo cartello delle Compagnie Metropolitane e Chicago daranno opere estive.

GRAVE MOVING DELAY IS BEATEN

Efforts to postpone consideration of the ordinance for the removal of Calvary Cemetery were voted down at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors. By a vote of 13 to 1, the ordinance, which provides that this cemetery be removed within 10 years, was passed to print.

In the final vote Supervisor J. B. McSheehy alone dissented. With a view to delaying action Supervisor Roncivieri moved that consideration of the ordinance be postponed for 10 months. Supervisor Schmitz led the opposition to this proposal. He declared that the ordinance should stand or fall and that to postpone its consideration for 10 months would morally obligate the Supervisors to reconsideration of ordinances already passed for the removal of Laurel Hill in 10 years and Odd Fellows and the Masonic cemeteries in five years.

TRASFERIMENTO DI CIMITERI

Tutti gli sforzi tendenti a postporre la considerazione dell'ordinanza sull'estumazione del Cimitero del Calvario furono contravvotati in una meeting della Giunta degli Ispettori. Martedì scorso, l'ordinanza provvedendo per il trasloco del suddetto cimitero nello spazio di dieci anni fu votata con tredici voti contro uno e passata alla stampa. Nel voto finale una sola dissidenza fu verificata e fu quella dell'ispettore J. B. McSheehy.

L'ispettore Roncivieri, con intenzione di ottenere dilazione, propose che la considerazione dell'ordinanza sia stata differita per dieci mesi. L'ispettore Smith condusse il gruppo di opposizione a detta proposta. Egli dichiarò che l'ordinanza doveva essere eseguita, oppure annullata, e che il differimento di dieci mesi per la sua considerazione obbligerebbe normalmente la Giunta alla reconsiderazione dell'ordinanza già passata per la esumazione del Cimitero di Laurel Hill fra dieci anni, e quella degli "Odd Fellows" e del Massonico, fra cinque anni.

ITALY'S ENVOY WILL VISIT CITY

Italy's new ambassador to the United States, Don Gelasio Caetani, will be the guest of San Francisco's Italian colony next Monday when he arrives here on a tour of the United States.

Plans are being made by officials of the Italian consulate, along with representative citizens of Italian birth, to extend to the ambassador a royal welcome. Caetani is an enthusiastic supporter of the Fascisti and has had a stormy but prominent career in Italy during the last two years. At one time he was banished by the government because of his affiliations with Mussolini, but returned later to be awarded the Washington post.

Caetani worked as a mining engineer in this country several years ago.

L'AMBASCIATORE ITALIANO FRA NOI

Il giorno diciannove corrente giungerà a San Francisco Sua Eccellenza il Principe Gelasio Caetani, il nuovo Ambasciatore d'Italia negli Stati Uniti. L'illustre personaggio sarà ospite della Colonia Italiana. Egli si reca fra noi in un suo giro per gli Stati Uniti. Americani ed Italiani festeggeranno il Principe Caetani e gli si preparano entusiasti ricevimenti ed accoglienze.

Oltre essere ricevuto dalle Autorità cittadine, sarà anche ricevuto dal Professor W. W. Campbell, Rettore della Università di California dove s'inaugurerà la Biblioteca Italiana.

Il Principe Caetani è un cooperatore Ingaibile del Fascisti, ed ha sostenuto una burrascosa ma prominente carriera in Italia durante gli ultimi due anni. Durante un periodo di tempo fu espulso dal Gabinetto Governativo, stante la sua affiliazione con Mussolini, ma ritornò più tardi per essere fatto segno all'onore diplomatico a Washington.

Il Principe Caetani esercitò la sua professione di Ingegnere di Miniere negli Stati Uniti alcuni anni or sono.

PENINSULA CITY BUILDING GAINS

Building permits for the four Peninsula cities of Burlingame, San Mateo, Redwood City and South San Francisco for the month of April reached the sum of $561,045. The majority of the permits were for one and two story family dwellings, indicating a large increase in the population of the Peninsula section. The totals for April were below those of the month of March in all these cities, due to the lessened demand because of the restrictions of the foot and mouth quarantine.

San Mateo listed $172,827 for new buildings; Burlingame expended $234,538; Redwood City, $105,231, and South San Francisco issued permits for $43,350 new buildings.

Palo Alto, another thriving Peninsula community in Santa Clara county, issued permits for $117,679 new buildings.

AUMENTO DI FABBRICATI

Permessi emanati per fabbricati nelle quattro città peninsulari cioè in Burlingame, San Mateo, Redwood City e South San Francisco durante lo scorso mese di Aprile ammontano alla somma di $561,045. Il maggior numero dei permessi furono concessi per fabbricati di uno o due piani ad uso abitazione, ciò che indica aumento nella popolazione della sezione Peninsulare. I totali per Aprile erano minori di quelli del precedente mese di Marzo in tutte le suddette città a causa delle locali ordinanze quarantene per la prevenzione della propagazione della nota epidemia.

San Mateo registrò $172,827 per nuovi fabbricati; Burlingame, $234,538; Redwood City, $105,231, e South San Francisco emanò permessi per $43,350 per nuovi fabbricati.

SEEK TO CANCEL CITIZENSHIP OF DRAFT EVADERS

Actions of Superior Judge E. P. Mogan of San Francisco in granting citizenship to draft evaders during the war were attacked Friday by the Federal Government in two suits filed in the United States district court for the cancellation of citizenship papers held by John (Giacomo) Buschiazio, an Italian, and Paul G. Lucas, a German.

Superior Judge J. J. Van Nostrand denied the citizenship application of Buschiazio after an examination in which F. S. Becker, government agent, testified Buschiazio was unwilling to enlist during the war. Three months later Judge Mogan reopened the case, according to the complaint and granted the applicant papers over the objection of Becker.

Other suits, asking cancellation of citizenship were filed by the government against Paola Robbiano, Ettore Stoppelli, Luigi Manni, and Luis Bruschi.

ANNULLAMENTO DI CITTADINANZA

Il Giudice Superiore E. P. Mogan di San Francisco concedeva cittadinanza a diversi immigrati, i quali risultarono come evasori all'obbligo di arruolarsi durante il periodo della Guerra Mondiale. L'attacco riceveva ed un'accoglienza cato dal Governo Federale in due giudizi innanzi alla Corte distrettuale degli Stati Uniti domandando alle autorità la cancellazione dei documenti di cittadinanza di Giovanni o Giacomo Buschiazio, un italiano, e Paolo G. Lucas, un tedesco. Il Giudice Superiore J. J. Van Nostrand decretò non accogliere la domanda di cittadinanza presentata da Buschiazio dopo deposizione di F. S. Becker, Agente Governativo, dalla quale risultò che Buschiazio evase la chiamata alle armi durante la Guerra. Tre mesi dopo il Giudice Mogan riaprì il giudizio dietro istanza dell'interessato ed accordò a Buschiazio i documenti di cittadinanza non obstante le obiezioni di Becker. Il Governo Federale ha iniziato altri giudizi domandando la cancellazione dal ruolo dei cittadini i nomi dei Signori Paola Robbiano, Ettore Stoppelli, Luigi Manni, Luigi Bruschi.

Talk Things Over With Your Home Banker

It's possible for a man to get too close to his business—so close that he can't see it clearly. Happens often. It applies to the merchant, the manufacturer, the farmer, the professional man.

Then is when a talk with someone who has the outside viewpoint, and who at the same time understands business fundamentals, is of very real help.

A talk with some of the officers of your home bank will often throw a flood of light just where light is most needed. We're always glad to have these talks with South San Francisco men and women.

A banker sees so much of so many different lines of business that his views come from a broad knowledge of the trend of affairs the country over. Wherever we can help, we're always glad to do it.
